Carrie Vaich of Mast Way commended the PTO Teachers and Students for all their work on the Spellathon. The teachers worked really hard to represent this to the kids in a positive way. They raised approximately $14,500 for the playground with this fundraiser.

Carrie reported that there is a Boys Night Out this Friday night. It will be a fun night with dancing and food.
The musical will be on April 18th at the high school at 7:30. The Enrichment Committee has been working on Earth Day as a school wide event. There will be a series of stations in the school. Smarter Balance Testing starts in May.

Superintendent Morse reported for Dennis Harrington that the Pancake Breakfast was held last night at Moharimet. It was a great turnout. This make-up date in the evening was a great success.

B. Board: Kenny Rotner noted that there was a YouTube video done in honor of Dennis Harrington last night.

He asked Todd Allen for an update on homework. He has been asked by community members.

Kenny Rotner mentioned with sadness the passing of Tom Merrick. He served on the Advisory Budget Committee and was very involved and contributed a lot to the community.

Al Howland has also heard from a parent with an incoming freshman that is concerned about homework.

Al Howland mentioned that a student who is very involved in drama at the school put together a great presentation request for funding.

VI. DISTRICT REPORTS

A. Assistant Superintendent/Curriculum and Instruction Reports: Todd Allen updated that they are at the beginning of looking at homework. Mike Anderson, a consultant they are working with, wrote a letter to the Superintendent raising some questions related to homework. They are discussing a potential survey tool. There is a lot of variables on how much homework a student should expect. As this develops, Todd will keep the Board updated. How does homework fit into the learning process is one of the questions. They have to be cognizant that students take a wide array of courses. Some of the students take seven courses and those students would have more homework.

Todd announced that the summer 2017 Reach Program Catalog has been published. There are 43 camps being offered. There are a couple of new offerings this year: Pam Felber will be offering a week long drama camp. There will also be a three day back packing trip in the White Mountains for incoming freshman. All the programs will be at the Middle School. Free lunch will be offered in the cafeteria.

B. Superintendent’s Report: Superintendent Morse reported that the District had budgeted 14.1 percent for health insurance and the actual increase will be 9.8 percent. This will free up about $150K, but he is recommending that we go through the hiring process and see what the remaining funding is before we use any of the funds. They are at the beginning stages of interviewing and at a future Board meeting will be able to nominate some positions for the fall.

Superintendent Morse also reported that the Kindergarten enrollment at Mast Way is at 69 students and is in the low 40s at Moharimet. They will be determining how to balance the enrollment of Kindergarten at the two elementary schools. They are beginning to see a trend in Lee that was unanticipated.

C. Business Administrator: Sue Caswell presented the MS-22 Form which needs to be approved and signed by Board members.

Denise Day moved to approve the MS-22 Form, 2nd by Maria Barth. Motion passed 7-0 with the Student Representative voting in the affirmative.

D. Student Senate Report: Student Representative Hannah Wilson reported that today freshmen had STEM testing, sophomores had PSAT testing, juniors had SAT testing and seniors did community service. The drama department is performing a one act play this Thursday evening. It is written by student Kristen Short. Also, the senate has been working on planning a spring festival the day before April break.

E. Other: ORMS Report Card Format on the Middle School: Jay Richard, Aaron Ward and Valerie Wolfson presented the Report Card format to the Board.

ELA Habits of Learning:

Jay Richard, Aaron Ward and Valerie Wolfson had an in-depth conversation with the Board on the proposed report card format. Jay reported that these competencies were created by the teachers.

Tom Newkirk has asked what happens if a student goes through a math class and they are not given a competent grade. Jay Richard states that they will be identifying students that are not and they will be targeting them to give them the assistance, support and services that they need during the academic school year. They have discussed revamping their RTI Program to be able to offer students more opportunities for students.

There was a discussion that there isn’t a fourth category for exemplary competency on the learning scale. A narrative that assesses the effort can also be used as a motivator. Jay Richard discussed that they have spent a lot of time and effort debating having three or four categories. Aaron Ward presented that three categories makes more sense to roll out this system for ease of implementation. This is something they can look at to implement in year two.

Tom Newkirk requested a survey be sent out to ask questions to staff. He would like to be certain that the teachers particularly in eighth grade are confident with this new proposed system. State law requires high school to have competencies aligned with the courses. There isn’t a state requirement at the middle school.

They will be bringing it back to the Board in May for a vote.

Jay Richard also mentioned that while interviewing teacher candidates for potential hiring he asked them about homework and they are saying they are not big fans of a lot of homework.
