PROFESSIONAL STAFF WORKLOAD

The Oyster River School Board recognizes that a teacher's responsibility to their students and their profession generally entails the performance of duties and expenditures of time beyond the regular work day. Time and work schedules can and should be established applicable to teachers during the course of their employment in accordance with the negotiated contract.

Work Day

1. Subject to extenuating circumstances, every teacher shall be in their school building and available for duty before the beginning of each school day at the time designated by the building administrator.
2. Each teacher shall be in their school building and available for duty after the closing of school for a period of time which shall be sufficient to take care of those details which usually are connected with the closing of the daily session, such period of time to be designated by the building administrator.
